Rutgers, The State University

Rutgers, The State University, which began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution, celebrated its Bicentennial Anniversary last year. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers originally was called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

In 1902 a ceramics department was established, New Jersey College for Women with its own New Brunswick campus, was founded in 1918; the School of Education added in 1923; and in 1925 the Extension Division for non-degree education and the School of Journalism were established. The College of Pharmacy was added in 1927, University College, degree-granting evening division, was established in 1934, and Newark University was merged with Rutgers in 1946. In 1945, the State Legislature brought all divisions of Rutgers within the designation of the State University of New Jersey. In 1950, an act of the State Legislature incorporated the College of South Jersey in Camden, including a two-year liberal arts college and a law school, into the State University as the Rutgers College of South Jersey. In April, 1955, N.J.C. was renamed Douglass College. In 1956, under a reorganization program, the University was officially designated, Rutgers, The State University, and came under the management of an 11-man Board of Governors.

Dr. Mason W. Gross, the 16th president of the University, was inaugurated in May, 1959.

Rutgers has grown from about 3,000 students in 1957 to more than double that now. The future, which includes growth at Livingston College, formerly Camp Kilmer, and a new medical school, is aimed at ever-increasing service to the State of New Jersey.

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

John F. Bateman, Head Coach

BEGINNING his eighth season at Rutgers, John Bateman has led the Scarlet to a .609 winning percentage, with 39 wins in 64 games. Bateman's record includes the only undefeated season in the 98 years of Rutgers football—a 9-0 mark in 1961.

Bateman, who was an assistant at Columbia under Lou Little for 11 years and at Penn under Steve Sebo from 1957 through 1959, is a native New Jerseyan. He attended Central High and St. Benedict's prep in Newark before entering Columbia in 1934. He played guard under Little at Columbia, captaining the 1937 Lion eleven. He returned to Columbia as an assistant in 1946 after three years in the Navy and three years as coach at Middletown, N. Y., High School.

The holder of a master's degree in political science and a doctorate in education from Columbia, Dr. Bateman is Rutgers' 15th football coach since 1900. He and his wife have three sons. They live in Piscataway Township.

DeWayne "Dewey" King, Defensive Coach

ARENOWNED EXPERT on pass defense, Dewey King is in his eighth season at Rutgers. A graduate of the University of North Dakota, his staff responsibility is with the defense. A native of Cando, N. D., King was an assistant at Michigan State before serving from 1954 through 1959 as a Penn assistant under Steve Sebo. King came to Rutgers with Bateman, who was a fellow assistant at Penn. King has authored "Jericho," a book about pass defense.

Frank Burns, Offensive Coach

RUTGERS' ALL-TIME great quarterback, Frank Burns returned to Rutgers in 1961 after four years at Chatham, N. J., High School. Burns twice previously served Rutgers, first as freshman coach and later as varsity backfield coach. He also was head coach at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. A native of Roselle Park, Burns was an all-east quarterback and an outstanding catcher on the baseball team as an undergraduate. Burns chief assignment is coaching the offensive backfield.

Robert Naso, Assistant Coach

A 1959 RUTGERS graduate, Bob Naso excelled in football and lacrosse as a player and in 1961-62 became varsity lacrosse coach and freshman football coach for his alma mater. He was assistant lacrosse coach for two years and in 1959 coached the 150-pound football team. When Warren Schmackel accepted the head coaching assignment at Boston U., Naso was promoted to the varsity staff as defensive line coach. Naso's six-year lacrosse record is 43-26-1.

Donald Heilman, Assistant Coach

THE HEAD COACH at Kutztown State College from 1960-1965, Don Heilman replaced Matt Bolger who now devotes his full energies to a year-round baseball program. Heilman is a graduate of West Chester State, where he was a center. His experience includes eight years in the high school ranks and two as a college assistant.

William J. Speranza, Freshman Coach

NOW IN HIS fourth year on the Rutgers football staff, Bill Speranza quarterbacked (with Sam Mudie) the undefeated Rutgers eleven of 1961. In his three varsity football seasons, Speranza participated on teams which won 23 of 27 games. Speranza, who also won three letters as a catcher-outfielder in baseball, was an assistant football coach at Liberty High, Bethlehem, Pa., in 1962 and 1963 before joining Bateman's staff. His Frosh record is 11-4.

Sampson Brown, Assistant Freshman Coach

ATACKLE ON LAST year's team, Sam Brown is serving his first season on the Rutgers staff. A 1956 Rahway High graduate, he returned to athletics at the age of 25 in 1964 and became a standout lineman.

Rutgers Athletic Administration

Albert W. Twitchell, Director of Athletics

AFTER A distinguished coaching career which terminated in 1961, Albert W. Twitchell succeeded Harry J. Rockefeller as director of athletics at Rutgers. A 1935 graduate of the University, Twitchell has been a member of the staff since 1947 as a coach and administrator.

Twitchell won six varsity letters as an undergraduate, captaining the 1934 football team as center and winning the Donald Leslie Coursen trophy, highest individual athletic award given at the University.

A native of Dedham, Mass., he began his coaching career at North Plainfield, N. J., High School. He went to Sewanhaka High School in 1937, served later as assistant football coach at Hofstra College, then returned to Sewanhaka as head coach of football and lacrosse until 1947.

He coached sub-varsity football and freshman lacrosse at Rutgers until he became varsity line coach in 1949 and succeeded his own former coach, Fred Fitch, as varsity lacrosse mentor in 1950. During his 12 seasons as lacrosse coach, his teams won 90 games, lost 31 and tied one. He became assistant to the director of athletics in 1952, later was named assistant director.

Twitchell is past president of the U. S. Lacrosse Coaches Assn. and the Inter-collegiate Lacrosse Assn. He coached the North all-star team in 1953, was named "lacrosse coach of the year" in 1958 and has served eastern athletics and lacrosse, in particular, in many ways since becoming an Administrator.

Kenneth G. Germann, Assistant Director

IN HIS seventh year on the Rutgers staff, Ken Germann is a veteran coach and administrator. A 1943 graduate of Columbia University, he was an outstanding football and basketball player as an undergraduate. A Marine Corps veteran, he spent 11 years as director of athletics and football coach at Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N. Y. He was freshman football coach at Columbia from 1957 to 1960. Germann was one of the East's top basketball and lacrosse officials until retiring in 1961. He holds a master's degree from Columbia Teachers College. He coaches the 150-pound football team, which has an 21-15 mark under his direction.

Otto H. Hill, Business Manager

AMEMBER OF the Rutgers staff since 1947, Otto Hill was appointed business manager of athletics in 1961. A 1942 graduate of Rutgers, he served in the Army and Air Force during World War II returning to earn his master's degree in 1947. He coached junior varsity and freshman football, moving up to the varsity as end coach in 1953, a post he held through 1955. He was freshman swimming coach from 1947 until 1956, when he succeeded the late Jim Reilly as varsity swimming coach. He relinquished that post to take over his present assignment and direct the University's aquatics program.

Frederick E. Gruninger, Assistant to the Director

FRED GRUNINGER, who joined the Rutgers staff in 1959, served his first five years in the Office of Alumni Relations. He was associate director before moving over to become Al Twitchell's assistant in July, 1964. He also is coach of the golf team which has won 37 of 58 meets under his guidance. Gruninger is a 1953 Rutgers alumnus.

Key Personnel

The Outlook — 1967

An eight-day spring practice, its first since 1954, has made the Rutgers picture a lot clearer than usual. Coach John Bateman and his aides were able to evaluate the newcomers, slot personnel and establish a pre-fall program for the athletes which is likely to be of considerable value, since position changes are not expected to be numerous.

Generally speaking, there appears to be an abundance of running backs, strength in the offensive line and an adequate corps of linebackers and pass defenders. The problem areas are the defensive line, notably at tackle, and receivers. Kicking is especially strong.

Perhaps the most significant development of the pre-season drills was the emergence of Bruce Van Ness, a 6-3, 205-pounder, for whom a place in the offensive backfield must be found. Van Ness would be an ideal single wing tailback, which means Bateman can use him either at tailback in the I formation, or at quarterback. These are positions where veterans Bryant Mitchell, an explosive runner, and Pete Savino, a workmanlike field general, have held forth. Van Ness may share the job (or jobs) or may win one. One interesting fall experiment could find Savino giving split end a try. If Savino can't catch, he might go to defensive halfback, with Sid Rhines getting a looksee at end.

REMARKABLE ATHLETE

"Almost everyone else knows exactly what he's going to do in the fall," Bateman said. "Van Ness presents us with a problem every coach dreams about. He is a remarkable athlete and we have to find the place for him where he can help us the most." Van Ness can run, pass, punt and catch and has speed, drive and maneuverability to go with his size. Although Bateman has little doubt that Van Ness "some day" will be an outstanding quarterback, the question at this point is: Can he, as a sophomore, move the team?

If Savino and Mitchell hold their jobs, with Don Riessett at fullback and Jim Baker on the wing, the backfield will be the same as it was a year ago.

In addition, fullback Joe Campassi, wingback Len Ruggiero and tailback Mel Brown are talented runners who can not only spell the first stringers, but press them for honors.

The offensive line, with Jim Higgins, Dave Zimmerman, Rich Koprowski, Alan Greenberg or Mo Hill, Jim Julian and Tom Vitolo, is a veteran group. Wide open, if Savino or Rhines don't make it, is split end, where sophomore John Milanovich and Gary Fisher were the best of a young crop of spring aspirants.

Linebackers Chuck Bowers, Bob Higgins, Rich Bing, and Bill Cintolo are backed up by some capable newcomers and the secondary appears to be reasonably sound with Rhines, John Pollock and Jack Prigger. Best of the newcomers here is Jim Renshaw, rated a future star.

BATTLE AT TACKLE

Up front, however, the only veterans are end Scott Lewendon and middle guard Joe Urbanick. An injury has eliminated end Art Christensen and it will be either Ernie Edwards or Frank Halloran at the other end, with four players—Dennis Dutch, Lee Schneider, Ron Astridge and Len Novelli battling for the tackle jobs. Their development will mean as much as anything else to the team success.

Place kicker Jim Dulin hit in practice from 60 yards away and could be one of the best field goal men in the country. Mike Greaves is a fine punter and both Van Ness and Ruggiero punt well.

Rutgers will have speed in Mitchell and Baker, good size, the potential to score from far out via the field goal and a good second line of defense. It remains to be seen whether or not a consistent passing attack can be mounted and how fast the defense can overcome its inexperience in the line. The prospect is not at all gloomy, but there are enough question marks to make unrestrained optimism a little bit unrealistic.

The Leading Scarlet Knights

Ends

RICK BONSALE, sophomore. A fullback at Franklin Township High and primarily a defensive player for the freshmen, Rick was converted to defensive end last spring and, with injuries to others, played with the first unit in the intrasquad game . . . Very promising . . . Was freshman wrestler . . . Engineering student.

ERNIE EDWARDS, senior. A veteran of almost every position in the line, Ernie, who started the Princeton game last year at center, is expected to bolster an experience-shy defensive end squad. He was at defensive tackle last spring, but liked the shift to end . . . Was All-County at East Orange High . . . Majoring in Landscape Architecture, hopes to attend graduate school.

GARY FISHER, sophomore. A fullback on last year's freshman team, Gary was moved to split end in the spring and impressed with his catching ability . . . Was in track and basketball at Toronto (O.) High School . . . Majoring in Liberal Arts.

FRANK HALLORAN, junior. Frank has an excellent chance to play with the first unit. A transfer from Navy, he impressed last year when he scrimmaged with the varsity while earning gym credits . . . Was three-sport athlete at New Britain (Conn.) High . . . Majoring in Business Administration.

JIM HIGGINS, senior. As he demonstrated by catching six passes in the spring game, Jim is a good receiver and could be a more frequent target this year, what with pass catchers anything but abundant . . . Excellent blocker, seldom makes a mistake . . . Former Watchung Regional fullback . . . Majoring in Landscape Architecture.

SCOTT LEWENDON, senior. A two-year letterman on defense, Scott is the veteran of the defensive line and should be one of Scarlet's top players . . . Slight knee injury kept him out of spring game, but he's established first unit player . . . Graduate of Plainfield High . . . Landscape Architecture student.

JOHN MILANOVICH, sophomore. The number one pass receiver on the 1966 freshman team, Milanovich was unable to show well last spring because of leg injuries . . . Could win job in fall, however . . . Earned honors at Hopewell High, Aliquippa, Pa. . . Majoring in Electrical Engineering.

BOB STONEBRAKER, sophomore. Patterned in the mold of Jim Higgins, Bob is the backup tight end and appears to have the credentials for eventual varsity status . . . Receives well, very strong blocker . . . Played frosh baseball, as he did in high school at Milesburg, Pa. . . Liberal Arts student.

Tackles

RON ASTRIDGE, junior. Still a growing boy, Ron has zoomed from 215 a year ago to over 240 and holds it well on his large frame . . . Earned status among top four defensive tackles in spring . . . Is just beginning to mature . . . Was end at Kenmore East High, Tonawanda, N. Y. . . Majoring in Geology, plans either to enter Peace Corps or attend graduate school.

JIM DIGIACINTO, sophomore. Jim made a favorable impression on offense during the Scarlet's abbreviated spring drills . . . The graduate of Fork Union Military and Liberty High, Bethlehem, Pa., will back up junior Rich Koprowski . . . Student in College of Arts and Sciences.

DENNIS DUTCH, junior. A reserve defensive end last year, Denny was given a shot at defensive tackle in the spring and played with the first unit in the intrasquad game. He is quick and strong, although small as tackles go . . . Was All-Conference end at Monongahela (Pa.) High . . . History student.

RICH KOPROWSKI, junior. When Ron Kenny needed an operation in mid-season last year, Koprowski stepped in and performed well the rest of the year . . . Now up to 245 from the 225 of a year ago, he's lost none of his mobility . . . Is excellent trapper for his size . . . Graduate of Benedictine High, Cleveland, O. . . Majoring in Chemical Engineering.

BOB MEHOSKY, junior. A reserve on defense last season, Bob has moved over to offense where his ability to hit out well can be utilized . . . Was over 250 last spring, but will play at about 230 . . . All-Conference and captain at Maple Heights, O. . . . Enrolled in Agricultural-Business.

LEN NOVELLI, sophomore. Although overweight at 237 last spring, Novelli showed signs of considerable defensive ability and is expected to fight for starting job at about 220 this fall . . . Was top-flight lineman at Canton (O.) Catholic . . . Liberal Arts student, hopes to attend law school.

LEE SCHNEIDER, sophomore. A former offensive tackle and linebacker, Lee showed varsity potential last spring and could star on defense. Was out of football last year, but showed no ill effects . . . Was All-League two years at Mineola, N. Y. High . . . Majoring in Agriculture Business.

DAVE ZIMMERMAN, junior. Dave was a starter on offense last year just about from the first day and never relinquished that job . . . Has "longevity" among interior linemen . . . Was an All-New England choice at Mt. Hermon . . . Played freshman baseball and may return to sport this year . . . Liberal Arts student.

Guards

ALAN GREENBERG, junior. After winning a starting job, Alan had the misfortune to suffer fracture of bone in his foot, which was troublesome rest of year. He missed last six games and didn't take part in spring practice. As a result, he will start over in September . . . Was All-State at Springfield Regional . . . Majoring in Business Administration.

MAURICE "Mo" HILL, junior. A knee injury at the start plagued Mo's 1966 chances, but he made major drive in spring and was ranked first at left guard . . . With weights, built himself up from 195 to 215 . . . Grandson of late Frank Hill, Rutgers first basketball coach . . . Also plays rugby . . . Graduate of Lakewood High . . . Biological Education major.

JIM JULIAN, junior. After earning first team right guard spot last fall, Jim didn't sit on laurels and was named "most improved" in spring drills . . . Should be one of top offensive linemen . . . Was All-Conference twice at Clairton, Pa., High . . . Liberal Arts student, plans to teach and coach.

RICH PEREZ, junior. Rich floated from position to position last fall as coaches attempted to find his "spot" and he wound up at left guard, where he did good work in the spring . . . Graduate of Linden High . . . Majoring in Mechanical Engineering.

JOHN NIEMYER, junior. Originally an offensive tackle, John worked hard in the off season, was moved to middle guard in the spring, and appears to be a good backup man for Joe Urbanick . . . Was an All-Catholic choice at Calvert Hall in Maryland . . . Enrolled in Liberal Arts.

JOE URBANICK, senior. Sidelined by mononucleosis just as the 1966 season got underway, Joe came back after five weeks on the sidelines to excel the rest of the way and should be one of top defensive linemen at middle guard . . . President of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity . . . Graduate of Euclid (O.) High . . . History student.

Centers

JOHN ORRIZZI, sophomore. Ranked as one of best freshman linemen, Orrizzi played little after injuring a knee . . . Former guard and end, was shifted to center last spring and gave promise of future stardom . . . Also participates in lacrosse . . . Graduate of Shrewsbury, Mass., High . . . Liberal Arts student.

TOM VITOLO, senior. Everyone except Tom, himself, has had doubts about his first string status and the expert at one-on-one blocking appears to have won a regular job . . . Shared position last year with Bob Schroeder, who went both ways . . . Uses quickness to overcome comparative lack of size . . . Union High graduate . . . History student, hopes to attend law school.

Quarterbacks

MIKE GREAVES, senior. Mike has seen only spot action the last two years, but was the Scarlet's punter last season, a chore he performed 49 times and averaged 35.8

yards per kick . . . He was 3 for 5 passing, including one TD toss . . . Plays rugby . . . Graduate of Levittown (N. Y.) High . . . Majoring in Agricultural Economics.

STEVE LIPMAN, junior. A junior varsity quarterback last year, Steve is a good passer and ball handler . . . Has been injury-prone . . . Suffered hamstring pull midway last spring in baseball and had to give up catching thereafter . . . Played at Hillside High . . . Industrial Engineering student.

PETER SAVINO, junior. Pete was the starting quarterback last year as a sophomore, running well, calling plays strategically and passing better than expected . . . He showed considerable passing improvement in the spring, but could be moved to another first string assignment (split end or defensive back) if Bruce Van Ness is installed at quarterback . . . played under Bill Gatyas at Perth Amboy High . . . Business Administration student.

BRUCE VAN NESS, sophomore. Although the move is based on only three days in the spring, there's a good chance Bruce will be at quarterback, rather than tailback, this fall. This is a do-everything back who has the ability to be among the Scarlet's best backs . . . Combines a great, coachable attitude with tremendous ability . . . Graduate of Proctor Academy in New Hampshire, son of Trenton State Athletic Director (Roy Van Ness) . . . Agriculture Business major.

Offensive Backs

JIM BAKER, senior. The fourth ranking national kickoff returner last fall, Jim figures as one of the Scarlet's best pass catchers and will continue to run the reverses and sweeps from wingback . . . One of best blocking wingbacks, is hard to tackle in open field . . . Caught for baseball team last spring . . . Graduate Bridgton Academy . . . Physical Education student.

MEL BROWN, junior. Equally adept at fullback or tailback, Mel did running at both spots last year and probably will be a tailback in 1967 . . . A good blocker, he is a hard worker, has better than average speed and gives the Scarlet solid protection at two spots . . . Graduate of Lakewood High . . . Business Administration student.

JOE CAMPASSI, junior. The defense will attest to the difficulty in bringing down this fullback . . . Had to give up football last year because of personal problems, but two years ago, he earned gym credits after transferring here, scrimmaging three times weekly . . . Graduate of Maple Heights (O.) High . . . Ag Sciences major.

PAUL HOHNE, junior. Injuries have curtailed Paul's development to date, but the well built wingback has running and receiving skills which the coaching staff plan to utilize, possibly at split end . . . Attended high school in Chagrin Falls, O. . . . Majoring in Chemical Engineering.

BRYANT MITCHELL, junior. Shifted to tailback from wingback, Mitch became the Scarlet's best all-the-way threat last year and had touchdown plays of 83, 66, 36 and 25 yards to prove it . . . Was top rusher, leading scorer and also proved to be good receiver . . . Exerts tremendous pressure on defense not to give him any room . . . Attended Solebury School, New Hope, Pa. . . Student in Liberal Arts.

DON RIESETT, senior. The best combination runner and blocker among the fullbacks, Don is ready for his best year . . . He showed last year no signs of knee problems after operation, but was a spring practice spectator after a bout with mononucleosis . . . Gives passers top protection . . . Was All-Catholic choice at Calvert Hall (Md.) . . . Journalism student.

LEN RUGGIERO, sophomore. Ruggiero was one of the most impressive newcomers at spring practice . . . The Cornell transfer ran, received and blocked well, playing wingback and fullback, and figures to settle at former spot . . . Graduate of Neptune High . . . Majoring in Wildlife Biology and Conservation.

Defensive Backs—Linebackers

RICH BING, junior. Rich lettered last year as a linebacker, sharing an outside position, now has a starting job locked up . . . Excellent tackler and easy to coach . . . Had good spring and is one reason linebacking appears to be a strength . . . Graduate of Emerson High . . . Majoring in General Science-Education.

CHUCK BOWERS, junior. Chuck could be one of Scarlet's best linebackers in a while . . . Excellent speed, has been put at middle linebacker, and sometimes will go to the corner and be in deep coverage . . . Plays defense in lacrosse . . . Graduate of Baltimore City College . . . Is majoring in Research and plans to attend medical school.

BILL CINTOLO, junior. When Lou Tepper was injured in 1966, Cintolo came through as a replacement and stamped himself as candidate for service this season . . . Is slotted at middle linebacker, with Bowers . . . Graduate of Revere, Mass., High . . . Majoring in Political Science.

BOB HIGGINS, senior. A former fullback, Bob was reliable linebacker last year, is a regular for 1967, and hopes to pick off a few passes to keep that "feel of the ball" . . . Was shot putter in track, is vice president of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity . . . Graduate Bergen Catholic . . . Majoring in History.

JOHN POLLOCK, junior. Wide-ranging, speedy John Pollock is expected to roam at safety for the Scarlet . . . Once a wide end, he made rapid conversion to defensive backfield last year, had one interception, played in spots, won letter . . . Formerly from Ohio, now lives in Youngstown, N. Y. . . College of Agriculture student.

JACK PRIGGER, senior. Jack must really love this game, else with two operated knees, it would be an easy matter to give it up . . . Coaches kept him out of spring game to avoid needless injury . . . Daredevil type who loves contact, will play defensive halfback spot . . . Was quarterback at Penns Grove High . . . Liberal Arts student, wants to coach.

JIM RENSCHAW, sophomore. The "find" of spring practice, Jim played defensive halfback slot for Prigger and will be on call as the first fill-in in the secondary . . . Has good range, comes up fast to tackle well . . . Earned honors at Triton Regional . . . Liberal Arts students, wants to teach and coach.

SID RHINES, senior. If they gave an award last spring for "most improved tackler," it would have gone to Sid, who worked hard to correct an acknowledged shortcoming. He now could be a topflight defender. If need be, the former Summit end could be shifted to split end if weakness there isn't covered . . . High jumped 6-3½ in high school . . . Physical Education student.

Kicker

JIM DULIN, senior: If they pick a kicking All-American, it could be Jim Dulin, who is just coming into his own . . . In spring game, he kicked 59½ yard field goal (no good because of an offsides) and just missed from 64½ yards . . . Has unlimited potential, has only been kicking his soccer style three-pointers for two years . . . Graduate of Hanover Park Regional, is nearing Rutgers FG records . . . General Agriculture major.

100TH ANNIVERSARY COMING UP

Although it still is two years off, plans are beginning to take shape for the 1969 football season, which will mark the sport's 100th anniversary. Rutgers and Princeton have formed a committee which will help promote the birthday of that auspicious date, November 6, 1869, when Rutgers, by the score of six goals to four, defeated Princeton in New Brunswick.

Game No. 1 — Princeton University

September 30, Palmer Stadium, Princeton

Team Colors—Orange and Black

Nickname—Tigers

COACHING STAFF: Richard W. Colman, Jr., Williams '37 (11th season); William G. Whitton, St. Lawrence '47, line; Joey L. McCandless, Princeton '51, backfield; Arthur E. Robinson, Rutgers '57, line; Warren Harris, Missouri Valley '43, defense; Edward J. Donovan, Holy Cross '32; Walter "Pepp" McCarthy, Boston University '42.

SPORTS INFORMATION: Bill Stryker (Telephone Area Code 609-452-3601).

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS. Rutgers won 8, Princeton 49. The series, oldest in collegiate football, began Nov. 6, 1869.

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 14; Lettermen Lost: 19

With only eight of last year's 22 starters returning, Princeton Coach Dick Colman has some rebuilding to do. The 14 lettermen who are returning are good ones and the Tigers always seem to come up with the necessary depth.

Leading returnees are tailbacks Rich Bracken and Bob Weber, end Steve Pierce, middle guard Lee Hitchner, halfback Bruce Wayne and tackle Dick Sandler plus tackles Homer Ashby and Bob Hausleiter, out with injuries last season. Up from last year's freshman team is fullback Ellis Moore, who has chance to start.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost: 12

After a tough season last year, Coach Fred Dunlap's Engineers are looking forward to improvements. The best news is a group of highly promising sophomores. Best of them could be running backs Ron Kovatis and Mike Leib, tackle Reggie Jennings, defensive back Fred Bergdoll, and tackle Corey Wolford.

They'll blend with a group of 18 lettermen led by All Middle Atlantic Conference fullback Jon Rushatz, quarterback Rick Laubach and split-end Rich Miller.

DELAWARE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 19; Lettermen Lost: 14

Last year, in his first as head coach, Tubby Raymond won the Middle Atlantic Conference championship. This season may prove to be a more difficult one for the Hens. Replacements must be found for eight all-conference players, including Little All-American tackle and linebacker Herb Slattery. Defensively, the Hens need help in the interior line.

On the plus side is the return of three members of last year's offensive backfield. At the attack. His leading rushers

ARMY PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost: 13

Coach-of-the-Year Tom Cahill guided Army to its best season since the 1958 eleven finished with an 8-0-1 mark. His chances of doing as well this year are good. For a change, the Cadets will show more offensive talent than defensive strength. The east's sophomore-of-the-year, Quarterback Steve Lindell, will once again head the attack. Lindell will do much of his throwing to split-end Terry Young.

Even with the loss of linebacker Townsend Clark the Army defense will not be weak. Captain Bud Neswiacheny will be returning as a defensive end and middle guard Pat Mente will be returning as a defensive end and middle guard. Al Piergallini, and middle guard Jim Lewis.

Game No. 5 — Columbia University

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 19; Lettermen Lost: 20

Looking for improvement on last year's 2-7 record, Buff Donelli will call on an all-junior backfield to move the ball this season. Quarterback Marty Domres, a versatile leader who completed 50 percent of his passes last year, will be joined by fullback Mike Busa and halfbacks Jim O'Conner and Rick Rose.

To bolster the line, Donelli will try a sophomore, George Starke, at tackle. On the defensive line, Buff looks to rangy end Bob Werner to contain the running plays.

LAFAYETTE'S PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 21; Lettermen Lost: 11

First-year coach Harry Gamble says he's "offensive-minded." This may be a good thing for the Leopards because it's the offense that looks like Lafayette's biggest problem. The main trouble spot is quarterback, where the task is to replace MVP Gary Marshall. If the Leopards can find someone to throw the ball talented end Dave Robertshaw will catch it. Also on the positive side of the offensive ledger is the return of three fine running backs—Rick Craw, Chris Yaniger and Joel Cossrow.

Defensively Lafayette will be sound. Nine of the 21 returning lettermen are probable defensive starters, headed by Captain and rover back, Bob Albus, tackle Al Piergallini, and middle guard Jim Lewis.

MASSACHUSETTS' PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 20; Lettermen Lost: 18

Last year was Vic Fusia's sixth consecutive winning season with the Redmen. His squad also won the Yankee Conference Crown. To be as successful this year, his sophomores will have to mature quickly. Co-captains Greg Landry, quarterback, and Jim Mitchell, tackle, lead the list of 20 returning lettermen.

Seven offensive starters and five defensive regulars will be forced to bear the brunt of the early season challenges. The Redman should be strongest at the guard and end positions and should suffer most at offensive and defensive halfback. Quarterback Landry was All-Yankee Conference last year. High on the list of outstanding veterans are end Bill Carty and center Bruce Gombar.

HOLY CROSS PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 30; Lettermen Lost: 10

Tom Boisture, in his first year as head coach, will greet a veteran team, with 30 lettermen returning. In addition, he has some promising sophomores ready to push lettermen out of starting jobs. His only real problem is replacing quarterback Jack Lentz who last year finished 25th in the country in total offense. Halfback Tim Hawkes should be the running back to watch.

Defensively, the Crusaders will be strong. Middle guard Glenn Grieco and line-backer Dick Giardi, both All-New England picks last year, will be back. Also returning is end Dick Krzyzek who always seems to come up with key plays.

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 21; Lettermen Lost: 9

Coach Hal Lahar, in his 11th season, has 21 lettermen and a group of talented sophomores on his squad who should help mold his team into another outstanding unit. Offensively, the signals will be called by junior Ron Burton who gained national ranking in total offense and rushing last season. At fullback, Captain Don Mooradian has earned himself a reputation as an outstanding blocker. The only real problem is finding a replacement for last year's tailback Marv Hubbard.

NOTE: It is recommended that Route 287 be used whenever possible—look for "Rutgers Stadium" exit. This route by-passes all city traffic.
